

PATRICK DOHERTY

MELBOURNE ART FAIR 2014

Western Australian artist Patrick Doherty is known for his free-style figurative illustrations that portray fantastic sequences and contain rich, colourful imagery. These epic, imaginative landscapes echo with ancient mythologies, often referencing spiritual, bodily and religious iconography to captivate and confront the audience.

Over the last decade, Doherty has exhibited across Australia including in the prestigious Primavera at the Museum of Contemporary Arts (MCA) in Sydney, 2007. He has exhibited at numerous galleries and institutions, including Fremantle Arts Centre, Perth; Karen Woodbury Gallery, Melbourne; Mornington Peninsula Regional Gallery, Victoria; Perth Institute of Contemporary Arts (PICA), Perth; Canberra Contemporary Art Space, Canberra, The Anne and Gordon Samstag Musuem of Fine Art, Adelaide and most recently at Strange Neighbour, Melbourne.

Doherty has collaborated on a range of multi-disciplinary projects including the development of a series of textile prints for the 2009/10 collections of cult fashion label Romance Was Born. He completed a studio residency at the Perth Institute of Contemporary Arts (PICA) in 2007/2008 and in 2012, Australian Art Collector included him in their 50 Things Collectors Need to Know issue as one of only six artists selected for the Cool Hunter Predictions section.

Most recently he was selected as a finalist in the 38th annual Fremantle Arts Centre Print Award in 2013 and also produced a newly commissioned work for the exclusive PICA Salon 2013 exhibition. Doherty's work is held in the Artbank, Wesfarmers and Art Angels collections as well as in a numerous private Australian collections.
